REPORT ON ALTERNATE DISPUTE RESOLUTION/ONLINE DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Date of Event: 18th November 2020

Name of Resource person: Advocate Dhanpal Jain

Objective of Programme:

- To create awareness amongst the laws students about the alternate dispute resolution and online dispute resolution.
- To make the students learn about the procedure of arbitration, conciliation and mediation system.

Brief report of the programme:

The Lala Lajpatrai College of Law had organized workshop on alternate dispute resolution and online dispute resolution (ADR & ODR). Our resource person was advocate Dhanpal Jain. He explained our law students about ADR & ODR in depth. He added further that ODR is conducted entirely online and ADR includes mediation and conciliation whereas the parties submit their disputes to the Arbitrator and an award is been passed.

Our resource person further added that there are five types of ADR

- 1) Arbitration
- 2) Conciliation
- 3) Mediation
- 4) Judicial Settlement
- 5) Lok Adalat

All the above proceedings are commonly used in civil proceedings and the role of the Officer is to resolve all types of matter except matrimonial and criminal matters.

Program outcome:

- The law students had great experience and learnt in detail about the subjects.
- The subjects also came to know that the courts are overburdened with the matters and the only alternate mode is ADR/ODR. The students were over whelmed and overall had a great knowledge about the subject.
